No te calles

I've always let my past dictate my future, letting it paint a picture of exactly what I don't want to be. Where I don't want to end up. Drake Chambers is as arrogant as I am stubborn. A college quarterback, a national star. I thought he was just another one of those guys the type every girl should stay away from, but he's carrying more than the weight of the football team on his shoulders. He unravels the feelings and beliefs I've held onto for so long. I thought we had it all figured out. Two people who'd finally found their happily ever after, but the past always has a way of sneaking into the present. With one decision, everything changes forever.

"Sáenz' poetic narrative will captivate readers from the first sentence to the last paragraph of this beautifully written novel. . . . It is also a celebration of life and a song of hope in celebration of family and friendship, one that will resonate loud and long with teens."—Kirkus Reviews "...There is never a question of either Sáenz's own extraordinary capacity for caring and compassion or the authenticity of the experiences he records in this heartfelt account of healing and hope."—Booklist "Offering insight into [an adolescent's] addiction, dysfunction and mental illness, particularly in the wake of traumatic events, Sáenz's artful rendition of the healing process will not soon be forgotten."—Publishers Weekly "Sáenz weaves together [18-year-old] Zach's past, present, and changing disposition toward his future with stylistic grace and emotional insight. This is a powerful and edifying look into both a tortured psyche and the methods by which it can be healed."—School Library Journal Zach is eighteen. He is bright and articulate. He's also an alcoholic and in rehab instead of high school, but he doesn't remember how he got there. He's not sure he wants to remember. Something bad must have happened. Something really, really bad. Remembering sucks and being alive—well, what's up with that? I have it in my head that when we're born, God writes things down on our hearts. See, on some people's hearts he writes Happy and on some people's hearts he writes Sad and on some people's hearts he writes Crazy on some people's hearts he writes Genius and on some people's hearts he writes Angry and on some people's hearts he writes Winner and on some people's hearts he writes Loser. It's all like a game to him. Him. God. And it's all pretty much random. He takes out his pen and starts writing on our blank hearts. When it came to my turn, he wrote. I don't like God very much. Apparently he doesn't like me very much either. Sad Benjamin Alire Sáenz is a prolific novelist, poet, and author of children's books. Sammy and Juliana in Hollywood, his first novel for young adults, was a finalist for the Los Angeles Times Book Prize and a Young Adult Library Services Association Top Ten Books for Young Adults pick in 2005.

Suicide Notes from Beautiful Girls

Imaginary friend Budo narrates this heartwarming story of love, loyalty, and the power of the imagination—the perfect read for anyone who has ever had a friend . . . real or otherwise Budo is lucky as imaginary friends go. He's been alive for more than five years, which is positively ancient in the world of imaginary friends. But Budo feels his age, and thinks constantly of the day when eight-year-old Max Delaney will stop believing in him. When that happens, Budo will disappear. Max is different from other children. Some people say that he has Asperger's Syndrome, but most just say he's "on the spectrum." None of this matters to Budo, who loves Max and is charged with protecting him from the class bully, from awkward situations in the cafeteria, and even in the bathroom stalls. But he can't protect Max from Mrs. Patterson, the woman who works with Max in the Learning Center and who believes that she alone is qualified to care for this young boy. When Mrs. Patterson does the unthinkable and kidnaps Max, it is up to Budo and a team of imaginary friends to save him—and Budo must ultimately decide which is more important: Max's happiness or Budo's very existence. Narrated by Budo, a character with a unique ability to have a foot in many worlds—imaginary, real, child, and adult— Memoirs of an Imaginary Friend touches on the truths of life, love, and friendship as it races to a heartwarming . . . and heartbreaking conclusion.

Changing Forever

For Macallan and Levi, it was friends at first sight. Everyone says guys and girls can't be just friends, but these two are. They hang out after school, share tons of inside jokes, their families are super close, and Levi even starts dating one of Macallan's friends. They are platonic and happy that way. Eventually they realize they're best friends -- which wouldn't be so bad if they didn't keep getting in each other's way. Guys won't ask Macallan out because they think she's with Levi, and Levi spends too much time joking around with Macallan, and maybe not enough time with his date. They can't help but wonder . . . are they more than friends or are they better off without making it even more complicated? From romantic comedy superstar Elizabeth Eulberg comes a fresh, fun examination of a question for the ages: Can guys and girls ever really be just friends? Or are they always one fight away from not speaking again -- and one kiss away from true love?

The Lonely Hearts Club

Why do we believe in the soul? Does it actually exist? If so, what is it? Does it differ from the self? Is it part of the material world? Does it survive the body after death? In The Spiritual Universe, Fred Alan Wolf brings the most modern perspective of quantum physics to the most ancient questions of religion and philosophy. Taking the reader on a fascinating tour of both Western and Eastern thought, Wolf explains the differing view of the soul in the works of Plato, Aristotle, and St. Thomas--the ancient Egyptian's believe in the nine forms of the soul/ the Qabalistic idea of the soul acting in secret to bring spiritual order to a chaotic universe of matter and energy--and the Buddhist vision of a "nonsoul." And, Wolf mounts a defense of the soul against its modern critics who see it as nothing more than the physical body.

Four Seasons of Love

A publishing phenomenon in Spain: a moving, lyrical, far-ranging meditation on the deep joys of confronting oneself through silence by a Spanish priest and Zen disciple. With silence increasingly becoming a stranger to us, one man set out to become its intimate: Pablo d'Ors, a Catholic priest whose life was changed by Zen meditation. With disarming honesty and directness, as well as a striking clarity of language, d'Ors shares his struggles as a beginning meditator: the tedium, restlessness, and distraction. But, persevering, the author discovers not only a deep peace and understanding of his true nature, but also that silence, rather than being a retreat from life, offers us an intense engagement with life just as it is. Imbued with a rare beauty, Biography of Silence shows us the deep joy of silence that is available to us all.

Memoirs of an Imaginary Friend

Dueña de un estilo propio, Magalí Tajés combina, en su segundo libro, textos de

ficción y de no ficción: poemas, cuentos, reflexiones, anécdotas para reír y también para conmoverse. Caos es un libro difícil de clasificar, que puede leerse de adelante hacia atrás y de atrás hacia adelante, un libro lúdico que exige la participación del lector. ¿Cuántos muros se tienen que saltar para llegar a un puente? ¿Cuántos universos hay que dejar morir para que nazca el propio? Caos. Una fiesta, varias habitaciones, tres tiempos: pasado errático, presente mágico, futuro incierto. Puertas que abren mundos y cierran miedos. Cinco colores jugando a adivinar de qué color pintás la vida. Historias dentro de historias. Disfraces desnudos. La risa como revolución. Miradas que buscan ojos en los que reconocerse. Espejos y corazones rotos. Caos. Mucho caos. Todas las personas que habitan en mí sacando a bailar a las que habitan en vos. ¡Que empiece la fiesta!

things. But when Arthur and Ben meet-cute at the post office, what exactly does the universe have in store for them . . . ? Maybe nothing. After all, they get separated. Maybe everything. After all, they get reunited. But what if they can't nail a first date even after three do-overs? What if Arthur tries too hard to make it work and Ben doesn't try hard enough? Demian by Hermann Hesse

When you're in love with the wrong person for the right reasons, anything could happen. Tretch lives in a very small town where everybody's in everybody else's business. Which makes it hard for him to be in love with his straight best friend. For his part, Matt is completely oblivious to the way Tretch feels - and Tretch can't tell whether that makes it better or worse. The problem with living a lie is that the lie can slowly become your life. For Tretch, the problem isn't just with Matt. His family has no idea who he really is and what he's really thinking. The girl at the local bookstore has no clue how off-base her crush on him is. And the guy at school who's a thorn in Tretch's side doesn't realize how close to the truth he's hitting. Tretch has spent a lot of time dancing alone in his room, but now he's got to step outside his comfort zone and into the wider world. Because like love, a true self can rarely be contained. Anything Could Happen is a poignant, hard-hitting exploration of love and friendship, a provocative debut that shows that sometimes we have to let things fall apart before we can make them whole again.

Aquí dentro siempre llueve

Hi, my name is Christopher, and this is my story, maybe It's just like yours, or maybe it isn't. We might not have anything in common, but, we may be very similar and have questions without answers. I'm sure we are both constatly hunted by our past. Although we may not, I don't think I'm like you, my shy friend, invisible in the crowd, addicted to be an addict. In the end, it doesn't matter whom I look like, or who I truly am. What you have in your hands is my journal and it is welcoming you to live inside of a "MAYBE," and to fall in love as much as to end up ignoring it. Life introduced her to me, to show me my desire of living through her eyes. Everything started in May, but I can't tell you what day is today. I'd like to welcome you to my life, filled with excess and fun. I invite you to a world merged with crisis, and to a life filled with music, concerts and poetry.

When You Ask Me Where I'm Going

Mi familia es una mierda. Excepto mi abuela. Me crio, me educó y me soltó; ninguna de las tres tarea fácil. Así que mi abuela es mi madre. Todo comenzó cuando mencionó lo de su testamento, aquella fue la chispa que encendió estas páginas. Y un martes por la tarde me senté a escuchar su historia, porque me parece importante saber de dónde venimos. Mi abuela vive en este libro. Y tienes que conocerla. «Cuando en vez de vestidos solo pueda colmarla de flores y su sentido del humor no venga a reírse de mi pena, abriré este libro. Porque sigue viva en él. Por encima del cáncer, la muerte y la literatura.»

Anything Could Happen

La cantautora Adriana Moragues debuta en el mundo literario con una historia en la que los sentimientos laten con fuerza y la música envuelve cada página. Una novela urbana y muy cercana sobre el difícil arte de reconocer nuestro propio camino en la vida. Carla es de esas personas que se regala cada mañana cinco minutos más de sueño, de las que se toma el primer café en casa y el segundo lo sorbe bajando las escaleras del metro. Podría ser una de esas chicas que trabaja en el prestigioso bufete familiar. Pero no. Carla ha escogido otra profesión. Esta joven de espíritu inquieto es ahora la cantante de la línea 3 del metro. Cada día cientos de personas pasan por delante de ella, quizás la mayoría no recuerden su cara, ni su voz; sin embargo, en ese pasillo desbordado de gente que camina en una y otra dirección, dos encuentros fortuitos van a cambiarle la vida. Carla se verá empujada a tomar una decisión que no será nada fácil: seguir los impulsos del corazón o escuchar la voz de la razón. Hay decisiones que pueden cambiarnos la vida para siempre. Reseñas: «En esta novela, Adriana Moragues nos abre su alma para detallar lo que vive y experimenta una persona sensible y valiente que se lanza a la calle en busca de lo que ama y para mostrarnos todos esos aprendizajes que esta maravillosa locura, la MÚSICA, nos regala.» Rozalén, cantautora y compositora «Adriana es una de esas personas que de su corazón tan pronto sale música como literatura. ¿Qué más tiene ahí dentro?» Chris Pueyo, escritor «La voz de Moragues se alza sobre este libro para hablarnos del amor y poner banda sonora a nuestros recuerdos.» Fernando Valverde, poeta that have the power to transform you forever, perfect for fans of The Perks of Being a Wallflower. Mira is starting over at Saint Francis Prep. Fence: Rivals

¿Podemos desde la educación literaria contribuir a la formación integral del ser humano? ¿Qué incidencia tiene el análisis crítico del discurso literario consumido por el alumnado de las diferentes etapas educativas en torno a la diversidad en el desarrollo de su competencia lectora y literaria? ¿Qué tipos de diversidad adquieren mayor protagonismo en las producciones literarias destinadas a niños y jóvenes? Las respuestas proceden de una didáctica de la literatura centrada en la perspectiva del receptor, el desarrollo de su competencia lectoliteraria y el placer por el texto literario. De la mano de diferentes expertos, el volumen conjuga la vertiente teórica con la praxis de aula a través de estudios y propuestas coherentes para los diferentes niveles educativos. El volumen pretende ofrecer una aproximación rigurosa a una línea de investigación de creciente interés en la educación literaria contemporánea y responder a uno de sus retos: la formación de lectores críticos y reflexivos. Desde esta perspectiva, supone un punto de referencia en cuanto al estudio de los vínculos entre educación literaria y diversidades y a sus posibilidades para el desarrollo de la competencia lectoliteraria y la formación de hábitos lectores como pilar para la construcción de las diferentes identidades y pertenencias del ser humano y el ejercicio crítico de las ciudadanía en sociedades democráticas.

Biography of Silence

I can't believe I fell for it. It was still dark when I woke up this morning. As soon as my eyes opened I knew where I was. A low-ceilinged rectangular building made entirely of whitewashed concrete. There are six little rooms along the main corridor. There are no windows. No doors. The elevator is the only way in or out. What's he going to do to me? What am I going to do? People are really quite simple, and they have simple needs. Food, water, light, space, privacy. Maybe a small measure of dignity. A bit of freedom. What happens when someone simply takes all that away?
